INTRODUCTION

The success of organization management is smooth and effective running and growth of the organization. Sometimes, the problem might occur. In some failure case, the unwanted event such as protesting against the organization director can be seen.

Here, the author summarizes the episodes of protesting against hospital director in a 10 - year period in Thailand (2007 – 2017).

EPISODES IN THAILAND

According to the recorded documents on news in Thailand, there are at least 4 events on episodes of protesting against hospital during the mentioned period in Thailand. All occurred in governmental hospital in rural provinces. The given reasons for the protest in each episode are suspicious corruption in 2 cases, neglecting of support to workers during big flood in Thailand in 1 case, delayed medical service in 1 case. Three episodes are protested by local people and 1 by workers in the hospital.

DISCUSSION

The poor administration might result in organization failure. In some cases, the reaction by the affected persons can be seen. Protesting is a serious event. In many countries, physicians might protest against local government administration [1 -2]. However, the episodes of physician being protest is less mentioned. In Thailand, due to the commonly occurred of protests, it is no doubt that the protesting against the hospital administrator can be seen. In most episodes, most cases are relating to poor administration governance. The poor relationship to the hospital workers can also lead to the protesting. In case that the community starts a protest against hospital, the problem is usually solved after the resigning of the hospital administrator [3].
